Job Description:

We're looking for an After School Program Instructor who thrives on providing hands-on learning experiences to girls in grades K-8th. You will be a part-time employee (up to 15 hrs/wk if desired) who leads and teaches hands-on science and environmental programs to girls in an out of school time setting (ie. 3:30pm - 5:30pm) at sites located in Sunnyvale and San Jose, CA.

In this role, you will create and adapt Girl Scouts program curricula to meet the specific needs of your girls. You will be in charge of program set-up and delivery, and engaging parents and community members to the Girl Scouts community. Developing positive relationships with administrators at the various sites and schools will be key.

Experience and Skills:

You'll be a great match if:

- You can effectively implement and adapt our curriculum and successfully present the programs to a classroom
- You have excellent written and verbal communication skills – you can confidently speak in both group and one-on-one situations
- You have experience with teaching strategies and behavior management techniques
- You can role model healthy and empowered decision making skills
- You are tech savvy - you are comfortable coordinating and communicating with other team members over email and text
- You have access to reliable transportation, a valid CA driver's license, and the ability to lift up to 25lbs
- You're excited to work in a diverse and supportive environment and make a positive impact in the community

Bonus points if:

- You're bilingual and have extensive knowledge of other cultures
- You completed college coursework in any STEM field
- You have experience facilitating youth programs
- You have an understanding of the Girl Scout mission, goals, values, and programs
